

Kempinski Hotels' Committed to Sourcing Cage-Free Eggs

At Kempinski Hotels we are committed to animal welfare and we view this as not only an ethical issue but as a crucial societal value, critical to maintaining a sustainable environment. It also plays a significant role in sourcing the ingredients and products we use in the restaurants, cafés and bars across our network.

As part of our commitment to animal welfare, we aim to responsibly source 100% cage-free eggs in both shell and liquid forms for our entire global portfolio by 2030.

Kempinski Hotels is an international, luxury hotelier with properties in over 30 countries, including many in exceptional or remote destinations. While some of our hotels have easy access to suitable suppliers, others may struggle to find an adequate supply in regions that are less equipped to help us meet our goals. We therefore recognise that achieving 100% cage-free eggs may be challenging. We are, however, dedicated to overcoming such challenges and will report on our progress in our annual Kempinski ESG Report.

Kempinski Hotels believes that sourcing 100% cage-free eggs will have a lasting, positive impact on animal welfare and sustainable food-sourcing practices in the regions where we operate. We will continue to work with our properties and their suppliers to ensure we are making consistent progress in this area.
